

Dr. Pathom Sakolkitiwat

Dr. Pathom Sakolkitiwat, a krabi native, was graduated from Medical school of Prince of Songkla University. He is the active member of Board of General Surgery of Thailand, and Board of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery of Thailand.

His professional starts with General Surgery Resident at Pramongkutkloao Hospital, Bangkok, and later he joined Plastic and reconstructive surgery at Thai-Army hospital until 2003.

At 2004, Dr. Pathom achieved Fellowship in Preecha Aesthetic Institute (PAI) at Bangkok Nursing Home Hospital (BNH) for a research presentation "Role of TCDO and Duoderm CGF to acute wound healing in rats".

He is now the fulltime surgeon at Vachira Hospital, Phuket, and active Plastic Surgeon Consultant at Bangkok Hospital Phuket.

His specializations including liposuction and breast augmentation have been achieved international recognition from patients around the world, with more than 50 cases in year 2006.

